

APPARATUS AND METHOD FOR GAMES REQUIRING DISPLAY OF INDIVIDUAL PLAYER INFORMATION

Abstract of the Invention

5 Game apparatus includes a display unit, a game hub and at least one game controller.
Each console includes a local display unit. The local display unit includes display objects that are typically available only to the user of game controller. For example, in a card game, the display objects would be the cards that had been distributed to the game controller unit. The apparatus on the game controller can be used to select the display object with which the user wishes to 10 continue the game.
